Description:

Friendfield, which began as a rice plantation and has been developed into a high quality duck and quail hunting property, is now for sale. The existing plantation house was constructed in 1930, following the plans of the original house, which burned in 1926. The house overlooks ancient moss draped live oaks and abundant rice fields now used for duck hunting. Friendfield consists of 3,190.7? acres with more than 2,000+ acres of managed quail woods, 250? acres of controlled and managed rice fields, 75? acres of pastures and deep water access to the Sampit River. Friendfield has all amenities necessary for an impressive hunting and recreational property. Detailed sale information of this offering is available at www.millikenforestry.com or by phone 803-788-0590.
