

ABOUT:

Situated near Delphos, Kansas, this 95-acre property offers a versatile mix of agricultural use and natural habitat. Approximately 5 acres of tillable farmland provide an opportunity for small-scale crop production or food plots, while the remaining acreage is dotted with abundant cedar trees that create excellent cover for wildlife and enhance privacy. A pond adds both visual appeal and a dependable water source for livestock and game. With open areas suitable for grazing and a balance of wooded terrain, this tract is well-suited for running livestock, recreational use, or establishing a quiet rural escape.
